

3rd Meeting of the Asian Oceanian VLBI Group (AOV)

Canberra, Australia, November 9-10, 2018

First Announcement

The third Meeting of the AOV will be hosted by Geoscience Australia, welcoming us in Canberra from November 9-10 2018. The Meeting dates lie in between the 21st International Workshop on Laser Ranging (November 5-9, Canberra) and the 7th International VLBI Technology Workshop (IVTW) in Krabi, Thailand from November 12-15.

The purpose of this AOV Meeting is to discuss current and future topics of the AOV, organise common sessions and foster collaborations. All AOV members are encouraged to attend. The meeting will further be open to IVS members, ILRS meeting attendees and everyone else interested.

The two-day meeting will consist of mainly discussions on the Friday and a presentation style workshop on the Saturday.

Timeline:

March 2018 - first announcement

July 2018 – second announcement, registration opens

End of September 2018 – registration closes

Early October 2018 – program finalised

November 9-10 – 3rd AOV Meeting in Canberra

For more information, follow the AOV website <http://auscope.phys.utas.edu.au/aov/>

Best regards,

Takahiro Wakasugi - AOV Chair

Lucia McCallum – AOV Secretary

Oleg Titov – LOC Chair